

Pad Kirtan:

“Anupam roop, neelamni ko ri”

From “Prem Ras Madira” (“Nectar of Divine Love”)

by Jagadguru Shri Kripalu ji Maharaj

अनुपम रूप नीलमणि को री ।

Anupam roop, neelamani ko ri.

A Gopi is describing Krishna's heart-enticing beauty,
“Krishna's beautiful sapphire complexion is indescribable.”

उर धरि कर करि हाय ! गिरत सोई, लखत बार इक भूलेहुँ जो री ।

Ur dhari kar kari haya! Girat soi, lakhat baar ik bhoolehun jo ri.

“Whoever sees His form, even once, is unable to bear the bliss of His charming beauty, and saying, 'Oh!', he holds his heart with his hand and swoons in ecstasy.”

प्रति अंगनि छवि कोटि अनंगनि, सुषमा-सुधा-सार-रस बोरी ।

Prati angani chavi koti anangani, sushma-sudha-sar-ras bori.

“Millions of Kamdevas (celestial god of beauty) could be sacrificed every part of Krishna's body, because He is the sweetness of the nectar of Divine bliss and beauty.”

जिनहिंन अंगनि नैनन निरखत, तिनहिंन कहँ कह सरस बड़ो री ।

Jinhin angani nainan nirakhat, tinhin kahan kaha saras bado ri.

“Whichever part of Krishna's body these eyes see, they feel that part is much more charming and loving than any other part.”

नखशिख लखि सखि अँखियनहुँ ते, पल पल तलफति देखन को री ।

Nakh-shikh lakhi sakhi ankhiyanahun tey, pal pal tal-phati dekhan ko ri.

“Even after seeing Him from head to toe, these eyes are never satiated and they deeply long to see Hm again and again, every moment.”

कह 'कृपालु' गागर महुँ सागर, आव न यतन करोर करो री ॥

Kaha 'Kripalu' gagar mahan sagar, aava na yatan karor karor ri.

Jagadguru Shri Kripalu ji says, “Trying to see the ocean of Krishna's beauty is like trying to fill the ocean into a jug. No matter how much you try, you can never fully conceive the limitless delight and the charm of Krishna's loving beauty.”
